USE and CARE INSTRUCTIONS

Before initial use and after subsequent uses, hand wash with hot soapy water. Not recommended for dishwasher use, as discoloration will occur, but will not affect baking properties.

Season pan with solid vegetable shortening or baking spray (containing flour) or line with parchment paper. Avoid cooking sprays as some contain ingredients that leave a sticky residue making clean-up very difficult.

Metal utensils, scouring pads and abrasive cleaners may scratch pan, but will not affect baking performance.

Aluminum is reactive to the acids in certain foods such as vinegar and tomato or acidic products, which may darken, pit, or corrode pan. To help prevent this, a crust or parchment paper can be used.

When finished baking, remove pan from oven, let cool completely (to avoid warping) and then soak in hot, soapy water for a short while.
